

Dear P.B.B.C. Family:

Thanks for your many prayers on our behalf in recent days. As many of you know, we were snowed-in on Monday in New York City. Thankfully the Lord answered many prayers and worked wonders on our behalf. We were able to rent a vehicle and drive to Washington D.C. and catch a flight home with the girls. In another miracle, the only flight we could then acquire to Israel was out of Atlanta. So not only were we able to fly home with the girls, but we were also able to fly out of the states from Georgia. Thanks again for your many prayers for us.

Our first day in Israel has been... overwhelming, to say the least. What a thrill to watch the sunrise this morning, standing on the shore of the Sea of Galilee. Most of our group did not arrive till this evening so we will start tomorrow morning at 7:00 and every minute will be filled. The picture below is Kim and I standing by the above ground ROOTS of a Banyan tree, Yes, these are the roots of the tree, the kids here use them for a jungle gym. We will keep you up-to-date as possible. Thank you once again for the glorious opportunity to represent PBBC in Israel. We look forward to sharing all the sites with you.

Serving Him... & loving it,
Bro. Keith
